Three Pahokee men arrested after bank robbery and high speed chase

By Stephanie Schneider
Sun Reporter

Three armed robbers from Pahokee entered Clewiston National Bank's Hwy. 27 branch and held up three tellers around lunchtime on Thursday, March 27. The trio left the bank with money in hand and began a 25 mile getaway that ended in Belle Glade with eight law enforcement agencies involved and the getaway car overturned and abandoned in a sugar cane field between Belle Glade Bowl and Glades General Hospital.

After flipping their car onto its roof, the three men attempted to escape. Two men, Shawn Cleveland, 26; and Tyrone Graddick, 27 ran into nearby Glades General Hospital in an attempt to flee but were apprehended by law enforcement officials. The third suspect, Cedrick Scurry, 23, also fled into Glades General but was able to elude being arrested after an extensive search of the hospital turned up no clue as to his whereabouts. Scurry ended up turning himself over to the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department around 1:30 p.m. on March 28.

Love brought her here and love keeps her here

Interview by Stephanie Schneider
Sun Reporter

Kathryn Rardin Collins has lived in the Glades since 1934. Her life in the Glades started as a love story. She loved Paul Rardin and married him when she was 18. That love led her from Glen-

Point and eventually to Pahokee. Kathryn was born to Dr. and Mrs. W.O. Strickland. She grew up on the red clay of Georgia, graduated from Glenaville High School and ended up attending Bessie Tift College in Forsyth, Georgia. Which, by the way, was an all-girls Baptist college.

She met Paul because he ran the local newspaper in Glenaville. They courted and eventually married in 1931.

In 1934 Paul and Kathryn moved to Canal Point and Paul took over the Everglades News, the local paper that is now The Sun.

Shortly after, Paul Rardin was elected a county commissioner for Palm Beach County.

"I remember when State Road 715 was a dirt road. Paul worked so hard to get it paved and his hard work paid off. There isn't a time that I don't drive on that road when I don't think of him," stated Mrs. Collins.

In 1972 while coming home from Georgia, Paul had a heart attack and died in Atlanta, Georgia. Kathryn buried him at Hillcrest Cemetery in West Palm Beach. "I knew how much Paul loved Palm Beach County, and I knew he wouldn't want to be buried anywhere but Palm Beach County."

After that Kathryn lived by herself and ended up remarried. She married Minter Collins who built Badoeck's Furniture Store in Pahokee.

Please see LOVE STORY, page 9

Her love for her husband brought her here and her love for the Glades kept her here. Kathryn Rardin Collins is one of the pioneering residents of the Glades.

Singletary & Norman seek reelection to City Commission

Two Pahokee City Commissioners, Roy Singletary and John Norman filed their papers seeking reelection to the City Commission. Commissioner Singletary, a long term Pahokee elected official, and Norman, who has been selected to serve as Vice-Mayor several times, both indicate their willingness to serve and their strong desire to continue a program of working together and bringing continued improvements.

"The theme, working together, has brought many improvements and we want to see even further steps made during the next term," said Singletary.

"Our community is just too small to have special interest factions working on their own personal agendas," said Norman.

Both candidates called attention to a list of several items that have been brought to successful completion which have helped the City.

"21 new homes have provided good, clean sanitary housing to area residents and more than a million dollars to the tax rolls.

-Over a million dollars in improvements to the Pahokee City Marina and Campground to promote tourism, helping local business.

-Comprehensive recreation programs for Pahokee youth, decreasing crime.

-Additional police officers.

-Designation as a Main Street Florida Grants Program City.

-Historic preservation grants for "Old" Pahokee High School.

Edward Duda named "Produce Man of the Year"

Edward D. Duda, chief executive officer of Oviedo-based A. Duda & Sons, Inc., was presented The Packer's 1996 "Produce Man of the Year" award on February 22, 1997 at the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association's annual convention in Orlando.

The award stems from Duda's efforts to guide the soul-searching and decision-making that United undertook during his service as chairman, says Bill O'Neill, vice president/publishing director of The Packer.

During his tenure as chairman, Duda was instrumental in shaping the focus of the association to better provide for its membership in the years to come, O'Neill said.

One such change was implemented at the convention's trade show, where tools of business, not marketing, were emphasized to help producers, shippers and intermediate industry sellers become more profitable in the produce industry.

Legislative and regulatory issues were also priorities to Duda.

"Ed has been a champion of United's leadership in legislative and regulatory issues and in government relations," said O'Neill. "Under his leadership, United staged a second, and highly successful, Public Policy Conference that brought together industry representatives, legislators and regulators."

In response to the honor, Duda said the award was the highlight of his 40-year career in the produce business.

"I am proud and happy to be a member of the Duda family, the Duda company and the produce industry," he said. "This is an honor I will remember the rest of my life."

Duda was born in Oviedo, Florida, in 1933 and learned the business of production growing up around the family's farming operation which began in the 1920's in Central Florida under the guidance of his grandfather, Andrew Duda, and his three sons, John, Andrew and Ferdinand. He graduated from Oviedo High School in 1950 and in 1957 earned a B.S. degree in agriculture economics from the University of Florida, which honored him two years ago as a distinguished alumnus.

After receiving his degree, Duda went to work for the family business, starting out at the company's Belle Glade location where he worked in vegetable production. In 1962, he was made a farm manager of sugarcane, and in 1967 moved back to Oviedo to take on the Long Range Planning position at the company's corporate headquarters. From 1968-77, Duda served as division manager for Duda's sand farms and then its snack farms.

Since his promotion to chief executive officer in 1977 and chairman in 1981, Duda has led the family-owned business to become the country's largest grower-producer of vegetables and citrus, shipping over 20 million cartons of produce annually from production locations in Florida, Texas, Arizona and California, as well as joint ventures in Mexico.

"We congratulate Ed on this accomplishment," said F.S. Duda, chief operating officer of A. Duda and Sons. "His service to the industry and to Duda make him a well-deserving choice for this honor."

Over his career, Duda has served as a director of Rabobank Nederland's Advisory Board, the Sugarland Harvesting Corporation, the Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida, The Governor's Council of 100 and the Florida Institute of Technology.

An active member of his community, Duda is a director for the Lutheran Haven Retirement Center in Slavia, and a member of St. Luke's Lutheran Church.

He is an avid offshore fisherman who also enjoys playing golf with his wife, Sadye. They have four children, three of whom are actively involved in the family business, and nine grandchildren.

A. Duda and Sons, Inc. is the largest family-owned fresh citrus and vegetable grower in the United States. Established in 1926, the company is headquartered in Oviedo, Florida, and has growing and sales locations in Florida, Texas and California.

BACK BY POPULAR DEMAND...The Duttons will perform at the Black Gold Jubilee's "Celebration of the American Family" at 5 p.m. on the Main Entertainment Stage.

The Dutton Family is back by popular demand

The Jubilee Committee has invited the Duttons, a family of accomplished and extremely versatile musicians, to Belle Glade for a return Black Gold Jubilee engagement on April 19.

According to Entertainment Co-Chair Dianne Carter, "The Duttons are probably the best group of performers we've ever had at the Jubilee. This is a wonderful group that delivers outstanding family entertainment."

Carter says that when the committee chose its Celebration of the American Family theme, the Duttons were the obvious choice for entertainment. Performing a special blend of country, folk, classical, and toe-tapping bluegrass, the Duttons were a big hit and played to a standing-room only audience at last year's Jubilee.

The Duttons include Dean and Sheila Dutton along with their seven children. Dean Dutton plays the guitar, and is a former professor of economics at Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah. Sheila Dutton plays the bass and serves as the group's business manager. The children range from 16 to 24 years of age and they play a variety of instruments including violin, fiddle, guitar, banjo, and mandolin.

For entertainment that will be remembered long after the last note is played, don't miss the Duttons' Black Gold performance on the main stage at 5 p.m.

Hurricane name game

By Mike Lyons

It began as a tiny giggle in the back of the room, but like an ocean wave of water rolling over a beach, the laughter rapidly surged through the classroom. Everyone was smiling and cheering and pointing at one very embarrassed boy sitting in the third row.

"Let me guess," I said. "Your name must be Andrew."

It happens almost every time I visit a classroom. The giggles begin as soon as I show my slides of Hurricane Andrew. It seems almost every class has a kid named after the hurricane. Actually, it's the other way around—the name came long before the storm.

We've been getting to know hurricanes on a first name basis since 1953. That's when the National Weather Service decided to name the greatest storm on earth after women.

Until that time, forecasters would describe hurricanes by their locations. That worked fine as long as there was only one hurricane wandering around the Atlantic Ocean. Yet, twice in 1960, three hurricanes were being tracked simultaneously. Folks had a hard time telling the difference between hurricanes A, B and C.

In 1953, a list of 21 women's names was created by the National Weather Service. By 1979, men's names made the list as well. And, not just English ones. French and Spanish names were added.

Last year, for example, Hurricane Caesar struck Nicaragua in late July. In early October, Tropical Storm Josephine formed in the Gulf of Mexico. And Hurricanes Fran, 1996's most destructive hurricane slammed into North Carolina in early September.

There were a total of 13 named storms last year with nine forming into hurricanes. It's just as well that we never made it to storm number fifteen. The 15th name would have been Hurricane Omar.

Which would have made life even more difficult for Omar Hurricane. Omar is a 28 year old postdoctoral researcher in plasma physics at the University of California in Los Angeles. Omar spends his days analyzing solar storms and trying to explain his extraordinary name.

As it turns out, Omar wasn't born a Hurricane. Like the storm that forms in the warm waters of the tropics, Omar developed into a Hurricane.

Omar's father, Yahya, emigrated from Iraq in the late 1950's under threat of execution. "My father was quite a troublemaker in the Middle East," Omar told Weatherwise Magazine.

"His nickname was Al-Lazar, the Arabic word for sea storm," Omar said. "When he came to America, he kept his original Arabic last name for quite a while. Then, when I was a baby he changed it to hurricane because a hurricane is one of the most violent types of storms."

Omar is very comfortable with his name although it has caused its share of problems. "Every time I'd apply for a scientific internship, I'd always end up being placed in something weather-related," he said. "Plus, every time I write a check I always get a funny look."

According to Weatherwise, Omar, his wife Jean and his father are the only Hurricanes in the country. At least for now.

One of these days Omar and Jean will have their own little Hurricane.

PBCC's featured employee of the month

By Leigh Woodham

This month, the "Fabulous" Glades Campus of Palm Beach Community College would like you to meet our art appreciation adjunct, Bonnie Saunders! She is such an interesting person, and I know that you will enjoy reading about her as much as I enjoyed talking with her.

Bonnie is the art teacher at Pioneer Park Elementary, and has taught in the Glades for eleven years. She has been an adjunct instructor for the "Fabulous" Glades Campus for eight years, teaching art appreciation, including telecourses, in both Belle Glade and Wellington. She came to the Glades after spending two years substitute teaching in southern Mississippi. In her spare time, Bonnie also teaches an after school art program at Okeechobee Center. The program is for children ages six through 11 and is sponsored by the Norton Art Gallery. Bonnie has been their instructor for the past four years.

A graduate of Louisiana State University, Bonnie has a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Ceramics. Immediately after graduation, she spent two years in Scotland apprenticing with a Scottish Master Weaver. After returning to the United States, she received her Masters of Art Education at the University of Houston. She also studied at the University of New Orleans, did undergraduate work in Art History in Innsbruck and Munich, and did post-graduate work in Venice.

Bonnie's hobbies include reading, walking and traveling. She loves spending time at home with her dog, Cotton, and visiting her family in New Orleans several times a year. She is a delightful person and truly an asset to the "Fabulous" Glades Campus!

Keeping your back fit while you sit

By Paula Swaford, RN

If you are an office worker, a driver, a computer operator or a student, you are a person who spends a good portion of each day sitting. So, if that's the case, why does your back ache? Frequently, back trouble is caused by poor posture and weak muscles — two conditions common to people who sit. You can take care of your back, and keep it fit, by using good posture and building strength and flexibility, while you sit.

Your back has three curves — cervical (neck), thoracic (chest) and lumbar (lower back). All three curves should be aligned to keep your back in balance.

Paula Swaford, RN

Often, we slouch in our chairs or bend forward over our work, throwing these curves out of balance.

Try the following tips to support and balance your back while sitting. First, place a pillow (or rolled up towel) at the back of your chair seat to support your lower back. Angle the chair seat so your knees are slightly lower than your hips. Then, move your seat as close to your work as possible so you don't bend forward. Finally, angle your work (or computer screen) so you can look straight ahead rather than down.

No matter what our jobs, all of us use our backs every day when we're sitting, standing, lifting, even lying down. A back injury can result in pain, disability and even loss of income if it prevents us from doing our jobs. Together with proper lifting techniques, back exercises are one of the most important things each of us can do to strengthen our backs and help protect them from accidental injury.

Some simple exercises are to clasp your hands behind your head and push your elbows back. Release the tension, then repeat five times. Exhale and slowly lean forward. Drop your head toward your knees and let your hands drop at your ankles. Hold five seconds. Inhaling, unwind, slowly bringing up the head. Exhaling, stretch arms toward the ceiling. Repeat five times.

These exercises can help to build strong, flexible muscles to support your back. They also help relieve tension that can occur when you sit in one position for a long time, for instance at a desk or computer terminal. Each exercise takes only a few minutes and can be done while you sit. Try them and feel the difference. Be sure your chair is stable before beginning these exercises and stop if you feel any discomfort. Here are two more: Face forward. Slowly turn your head toward your shoulder, if possible, so you look over it. Return to center. Repeat five times. Then do the same in the other direction. Also sitting with your back and buttocks against the back of the chair, sit with your feet flat on the floor. With your hands on chair or desk for support, slowly raise your thighs a few inches above your chair seat. Repeat five times.

Once you learn how to care for your back while you sit, you can sit back and relax, knowing that you're keeping your back healthy and strong. Sitting doesn't have to be a pain in the back if you keep fit while you sit.

Until next time...stay informed and stay healthy.

Medicare pays for flu shots, pneumonia shots and screening mammograms

Medicare Part B will pay for three important preventative measures that will help keep beneficiaries active and healthy: the flu shot, the pneumonia shot, and mammograms. These three benefits not only prevent discomfort; they also save lives. But too many Medicare beneficiaries don't take full advantage of these benefits and miss out on time with their family and friends because they get sick.

This doesn't have to happen. The flu and pneumonia are preventable diseases. Breast cancer is most easily treated in its early stages. Here are some facts about the flu and pneumonia shots, and mammograms.

FLU SHOTS

The flu can be dangerous. Not only do people feel bad when they have it, but they can also pass it on to loved ones. It can also lead to more serious illnesses. The good news is that people don't have to get the flu!

Medicare beneficiaries are entitled to one flu shot per flu season, which usually runs from October to March. The shot is free if the health care provider the beneficiary chooses accepts assignment. Remember: People cannot catch the flu from the flu shot. By getting the shot, beneficiaries will avoid coming down with the flu.

PNEUMONIA SHOTS

Nearly 40,000 people die each year because of pneumococcal pneumonia. Many others are hospitalized for the disease. These people miss out on their usual social activities and time with their families, and incur high medical bills.

But pneumococcal pneumonia can be prevented with vaccine, and all Medicare beneficiaries are entitled to it. Just one shot will protect beneficiaries for life, and it's free if their health care provider accepts assignment from Medicare. People cannot catch pneumonia from the vaccine.

MAMMOGRAMS

Breast cancer is most common in women age 65 and over. Women age 65 and over also account for 50% of all new breast cancer cases and 56% of all breast cancer deaths. Early detection of breast cancer is one of the keys to a good chance for recovery.

A mammogram is a safe, low-dose X-ray of the breast that helps with the early detection of breast cancer. It can find breast cancer that is too small for a person to feel during a breast self-exam. Medicare Part B covers mammograms every one to two years, depending on the beneficiary's age and risk factors.

Those who have met their Medicare Part B deductible should have an out-of-pocket expense of less than $25 if their health care provider accepts assignment from Medicare. Beneficiaries who have supplemental insurance may have no out-of-pocket costs.

Beneficiaries need to be made aware of these Medicare benefits and should be encouraged to take advantage of these preventative and early detection tools. These services will help keep beneficiaries healthy and active so they can enjoy their family and friends for a long time.

We'd like a nice shopping center

"I'm calling, talking to the city commissioners and the mayor and whoever else is in charge of why they're always talking about taking money and putting it on parks. We need a nice shopping center, like Walmart or K-Mart or something so some of our employees can use it.

Right now, we're taking all our money and carrying it over to West Palm Beach and spending all our money there when we could be spending it in our own community.

I feel like we need a nice restaurant and nice department stores in Pahokee and Belle Glade.

Letters to the editor

Dear Editor:

This is directed to Belle Glade's Parks and Recreation. To whom it may concern: Please tell me why the city-run Airport Park isn't maintained as well as some other city-run properties, such as the Municipal Golf Course?

I know the golf course brings in money to the city. They should spend some of it on Airport Park to get rid of the thousands of rocks in the end fields and to put some fill in the out field to cover some of the hundreds of pot holes.

Is the safety of our children not as important as a manicured golf course?

Sincerely,

Allen Miller

Editor's note: City Manager Lomax Harrelle said: "Thank you for bringing the situation at Airport Park to my attention. City staff is taking care of the problem."

Pahokee Main Street

Dear Editor:

What is the point of protecting the lives of one million alligators in the State of Florida? I readily admit that it would be an inappropriate 'nightmare' to charge the public and our multi-layered 'eco-government' with the responsibility of protecting the multi-millions of children's lives from all harm, including the attack of our wild creatures.

This would be considered a classic "who-dun-it." Let the guilty party pay, and it did, with its life.

Gators have the ability to proliferate at approximately 7 feet in length. Why not open season on all gators over that length year-round? Well, I called the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission Alligator Project in Okeechobee, Florida. Lindsay Hoard, the biologist for the project, set me straight while my two-year-old son sat upon my lap.

"Why not ban swimming pools in Palm Beach County?" he said. I was still angry at the loss of this innocent life. He further explained about the phenomenon which is being researched in the game commission known as "Compensatory Response." After numerous complaint calls, the commission answered with a heavier call of the larger gators a few years back. The immediate result, the following season was a six fold increase in the numbers of nests that were counted on Lake Okeechobee.

Short of killing all of the alligators, the only way to combat this needless loss of human lives is, as Mr. Hoard put it, "education."

Community outraged...Hospice pulls out of the Glades

By April Stafira
Belle Glade

Hospice officially closed its doors last week at the 25 Southeast Avenue E location in Belle Glade. The closing of the office and store is a corporate decision influenced by the resale shops' area manager, Pat Bickford.

The major cause for closing the store occurred with the lease. The landlord failed to install additional parking and to keep up the common ground maintenance. When community leaders heard that the office and store were in jeopardy, they immediately tried to assist Hospice in finding another location - which they did. Several contacted Mrs. Bickford and the corporate office with their find. A new location, approximately a block away. The landlord offered to build to suit and rent at one third the cost of what Hospice was presently paying. Sounds good, huh!

Well, it was not good enough for Mrs. Bickford or the corporate board. "This area is too poor. And this store does not make enough money," were comments made by Mrs. Bickford, which sent the community leaders into a fury. (Excuse me, aren't non-profit, second hand stores supposed to help those in need? Stop me at any time if I start sounding too benevolent.)

Mr. Stine broadcasted public announcements over the radio station WSWN several times a day to inform the public what was going on. The community was outraged. Calls started pouring into Hospice's main office - so many, that a designated operator was assigned to handle all the incoming complaints.

Despite the collaborated efforts of the community, Hospice sent Mrs. Bickford out on Saturday, March 22, 1997, to close the Golden Glades Resale Shop.

Patrons of the resale shop were in tears. Many could not believe that their money was not green enough for Hospice.

One customer said, "I'm a grandmother with three grandchildren in the house. I depend on this shop for just about everything." Another commented, "It's sickening how Hospice can ask our community for contributions and then turn around and slap us in the face by saying we're too poor!"

The hospice nurses are in just as much dismay over losing their beloved little office next to the resale shop. "We're a team! We started as a team and we are going to end as a team." The nurses have been relocated to the old Pahokee nursing home.

Our hearts go out to the nurses, for they are truly the angels of mercy who comfort their patients, mind, body and soul.

What amazes me, is the fact that Hospice's ultimate mission is to help those in need. Hospice gets all of its goods donated to them, including estates, houses, jewelry, cars, furniture, clothes, housewares, etc. The donations are priced according to the economics of the area to which a store is located. It does not take an economist to figure out that this area is not like West Palm Beach.

It's really a shame that the infrastructure of Hospice is so money hungry. Hospice should add to its philosophy: "And we will help as long as we make sure we turn a profit!"

Hospice CEO responds...

Dear Editor:

Thank you for the opportunity to address the Belle Glade community at the wake of the tragic automobile accident of March 19. I hope the comments we offered about coping with sudden death provided some comfort to those in the community who are grieving over the loss of the two young men.

I received a copy of the letter you faxed to Pat Bickford on Friday afternoon and although I am not acquainted with the author, April Stafira, I was distressed to read her comments about Pat, a valued Hospice employee. The Resale Shop was opened in 1993 as a means to provide financial assistance to our Belle Glade community. Hospice of Palm Beach County will hold a giant rummage sale (with the help of some Belle Glade community leaders) in conjunction with a fish fry on October 4 at the marina.

We need volunteers and word-of-mouth support so that the community knows about the event. Please tell your readers about our plans and ask them to contact us if they wish to help. They should call the Development Department at (561) 845-5185.

If we can provide you with additional information, please call our Director of Public Relations, Sue Deakin, at (561)845-5145. Thank you for your interest in Hospice of Palm Beach County.

DRAWING FOR MARCH OF DIMES...First Union Bank of Belle Glade raised money for the March of Dimes by selling chances on a giant balloon with a bunny and candy inside. Bridget Lutz, left, a teller at First Union, was the Chairman for the bank's March of Dimes. She let bank customer Soby Baez of Belle Glade draw the winning ticket. The Pahokee First Union Bank also helped with the fundraiser, which netted March of Dimes a total of $378. Averill's Studio and Gifts donated the balloon basket for the event.

Jubilee Night Golf has a few open slots

Organizers are getting ready for a big night of laughs and fun on April 12 when the Jubilee's Night Golf Tournament gets underway at dark. Tournament Chair Kelly Teets says "We still have a few slots open, but we expect it to be filled by tournament time." If you love golf and are looking for a great new twist to the game, give Night Golf a try. For more information, contact Kelly Teets at 996-2089 or Brian Lohmann at 924-5651.

Jubilee Announces Schedule of Events

The Jubilee Committee has locked in its schedule of events for the April 19 community celebration. According to Dianne Carter, "We will be offering two areas of entertainment, and I think this will provide more variety for festival goers." Carter says the Jubilee will offer Main Stage-entertainment as well as outdoor stage performances. The Jubilee Main Stage entertainment includes Dennis Lee at 1:00, Glades Day School Glee Club at 3:00, and The Dut-tons at 5:00 p.m. In between these featured shows, local Gospel singers, baton twirlers, and dance groups will perform on the outdoor stage. Also, Joe Stephens is scheduled to entertain at the Marina Pavilion at 2:00, 4:00 and 6:00 p.m.

Other Jubilee events include helicopter rides, a 2:00 p.m. ski show, and Sea-doo demonstration rides throughout the day.

The Baby Crawl is scheduled for 3:00 p.m.

Welcome Tent Sponsored by Solid Waste Authority

Anyone needing both location or more Jubilee information on April 19 is encouraged to visit the Jubilee Welcome Tent. Sponsored by Solid Waste Authority of Palm Beach County this area will be centrally located and easily recognizable at the Jubilee. The '97 Jubilee booklets, Taste of the Glades cookbooks, and T-shirts will be available at the Welcome Tent.

Photography Contest Deadline is April 11

Have you snapped that perfect sunset? Or, do you have a winning photo of a grandchild? If so, the Jubilee Committee wants to hear from you. Our photography contest was a big hit last year, and we are expecting even more entries for Jubilee '97. Winners receive plaques, and all photography entries will be on display at the Jubilee. Deadline is Friday, April 11, so get busy. You want to see your photos!

Jubilee Pre-sale Order Suggested

There will be a limited number of Jubilee T-shirts as well as Taste of the Glades cookbooks, and we are recommending pre-sale orders for both. The Jubilee shirts are $10 and anyone interested can reserve a shirt by calling the Chamber of Commerce at 996-2745. Larger sizes will sell for $12. Cookbooks can be reserved through Bobbie Mathis at City Hall at 996-0100. These keepsake editions are $12 and are expected to go on sale April 14.

Have you registered yet for the 5K Walk/Run? It's fun; you get a free T-shirt; and we don't want to run without you!

Speak up for a child

If you love children and can give the gift of time to represent the best interest of neglected, abused and abandoned children in the Glades, the Guardian Ad Litem/Volunteer Program is for you.

The program needs volunteers to be the "eyes and ears" of the Court on behalf of these abused or neglected children, whose voices would otherwise be unheard or overlooked in the complicated and overburdened court process. There are never enough volunteers to make certain every child is represented. Training will be held at Belle Glade City Hall on April 8, 9, and 10 from 5:30 to 9 a.m.

Glades Day School Gator Tales

Glades Day School's Class of 1997 will present Tim Kelly's two-act comedy "Hollywood Hotel" at 7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday, April 11-12 at the school's Dora B. McWhorter Hall.

The play is about three teenage girls from Missouri who hit Hollywood, each full of dreams about being discovered one as a screenwriter, the second, a director, and the third, an actress. But their limited funds land them in a grungy bungalow called Hollywood Hotel and the fun begins. The landlady is the tyrannical Mrs. Hook (called "Captain Hook" by the tenants) and she's determined to toss the girls out and keep their security deposit.

A parade of eccentric characters use the cottage as a gathering place, including a teenage beauty queen who wants to be the next Marilyn Monroe, a handyman who writes weird science fiction, a bunch of punk rockers, a Count Dracula look-alike, a graffiti artist and several more colorful characters. There are many hilarious survival situations as the girls make the first successful steps toward their chosen careers. It's wacky and it's wild. Check into Hollywood Hotel and check it out!

Cast members include Miriam Barhoush, Lesley Carter and Shannon Dobrow as the three hopeful girls from Missouri, Monica Schmidt as Mrs. Hook, Luke Weeks as the handyman/writer, Karen DeCastro as the beauty queen, Melissa Tucker as Jane's tap dancing young cousin, Kasey Romero as Chu-Chu, Rhied White as Flea, and Laura Shiver as an aged has-been actress/drama coach. Rounding out the cast are Ashley Curtiss, Thomas Meeks, Eman Shatara, Thomas Norman, Amie Motes, Tamam Barhoush, John Holman, Erin Meadows, Valerie Herring, Lindsey Howell, Jackie Alvarez and Gada Halum.

Tickets are $8 per person and include hors d'oeuvres to be served after the show. Contact any Senior Class cast member or call Becky White at 996-5800.

Raider News from Glades Central Pulitzer Prize Play to be performed at G.C.

The award winning play, "The Piano Lesson" by August Wilson will be performed by the Glades Central Thespians Troupe April 11 and 12 in the Glades Central Theater at 7:31 p.m. The script won playwright August Wilson the coveted Pulitzer Prize for Literature Award. It tells the story of an African American family's struggle with the decision of whether to sell a piano that has been in their family since slavery days or to keep it. The decision to keep family history in the home or to sell it and make a better future for the family through the purchase of their own farm land is a difficult choice. August Wilson's characters bring this American family's struggle to the stage for us to see.

Glades Central Thespians are producing the play to raise money to attend State Competition in Tampa on April 16-20. They have won their own high ranking awards this year in the form of the better than first place Critic's Choice for their play "Living On". Individually they have Superior and Excellent awards on the district level and which they will be competing on the State level also.

Senior, Brian Edgecomb leads the cast as Boy Willie; his sister Berniece is portrayed by junior, Lloren Dowdell Ray Hamilton, a junior, appears in the role of Lymon, Boy Willie's friend, Joe Benjamin, a senior and new comer to the stage brings music to the stage as Wining Boy. Regulars and fellow juniors, Lindsay Bennett and Lonette Bolden are the cynical Aunt Doreen and Berniece's daughter Marthea. Charlie Mann, a senior, gives us the character of Rev. Avery, while Machala Boon comes to the Glades Central stage for the first time as Grace. Please come and support this group of students. The play is one for the entire family. Tickets for $5.00 may be purchased from any cast member or the director, Sarah Bennett. If your club or organization wishes to buy a block of 20 or more tickets, your club's name, will appear in the program as a sponsor of the Glades Central Thespians. You may call the school at 993-4403 for further information. The play is Friday, April 11 and Saturday, April 12 at 7:31 p.m. in the Glades Central Theater.

Pahokee Youth Development Center looking for volunteers to help make a difference in the lives of young men

By Stephanie Schneider
Reporter

The Pahokee Youth Development Center is looking for volunteers to help make a difference in the lives of young men by tutoring, being mentors and role models, being guest speakers, and providing career guidance and assistance to the youths when they leave the facility.

The Pahokee Youth Development Center is a 350 bed facility for male youthful offenders between the ages of 14 and 18. Besides being their home, it is also their school and medical complex.

The Youth Development Center has an accredited charter high school where offenders can get their high school diplomas. The facility also is home to many vocational programs where offenders can learn skills that will help them with their re-entry into society.

Correctional Services Corporation encourages community members to donate their time and effort to enhance the educational, health and life skills programs at the Pahokee Youth Development Center.

If you would like to make a difference in the lives of a young man please register to be a VOLUNTEER at the Pahokee Youth Development Center. Call the Community Relations and Volunteer Services Director. (561) 924-5922.

SPORTS

Fishing with Walt Reynolds

This is the kind of weather that a lot of folks moved to Florida for. It also makes for some beautiful days on the lake. I wish the fish were as happy about it as the fishermen. The way they are biting, one would think it was the dead of winter.

The crappie bite is almost nonexistent right now. You may catch a few at night under the lights, but the daytime bite, by all reports, is just not there. The bluegill are starting to bite though. It is time for them to move to the spawning areas and when they are on the beds, they are very easy to catch. Grass shrimp and worms working around spoil islands at the mouth of Uncle Joe's Cut. Fish right up next to the grass line and you should catch some fine eating size gills.

Walt Reynolds

The bass have been on strike the past couple of weeks. There is an early morning topwater bite on the edges of the pepper-grass using Johnson Spoons. The worm bite has been very slow and not too many on spinnerbaits. They should pick up again next week as we come up on the dark of the moon. Try small crankbaits, such as a small (1/4 oz.) Rattle Trap or Fat Rap on the edge of the grass and around the spoil islands.

Be sure to keep an eye on the sky for the afternoon thunderstorms that are starting to build this time of year. They can produce some deadly strikes and come up very fast.

For those of you who surf the net on your computers, you can also read my report at <<http://www.mrk.net/fishing>> on the World Wide Web.

To all a good bite,
Walt Reynolds

Wild turkey hunters, listen up...

Wild turkey hunters at Avon Park Air Force Range, a 106,000 acre military installation located in Polk and Highlands Counties, enjoyed a great opening weekend for the 1997 Spring Turkey Season. A total of 67 gobblers were harvested on March 15-17, making this the best opening weekend on record. The second best opening weekend on record was last year's Spring Turkey Season, when a total of 60 birds were taken. For the period 1987-1996, opening weekend harvests ranged from 22-60 turkeys.

Wild turkey harvests have been tracked on the Avon Park Air Force Range since 1951, over which time the harvest has ranged from a low of 4 to a high of 180 total turkeys harvested. The harvest has moved in a serpentine cycle from very low numbers in the early 1950's, to a high in the late 60's, to a low point in the late 70's, and is now at a relatively high point.

Approximately 90% of each year's harvest comes from the Spring Turkey Season while 10% are taken by archers in the fall. Of these, the majority (65%) of the gobblers taken in the spring are fully mature birds while the majority (82%) of those taken in the fall are jakes, or young-of-the-year birds.

In addition to tracking harvests, wildlife biologists at Avon Park Air Force Range have conducted annual population surveys since 1992. These surveys provide a measure of turkey abundance against which previous measurements can be compared. They also provide a measurement of productivity. In both cases an increasing trend has been recorded over the five years during which the surveys have been conducted. Favorable habitat conditions have caused increased production and survival of poults, and this has resulted in a growing population. This, in turn, sets the stage for a bumper crop harvest year for turkey hunters, as the current promises to be.

If you are interested in hunting on the Avon Park Air Force Range applications are being taken for the fall 1997 - spring 1998 hunting seasons. Applications may be submitted no later than April 8, 1996, and may be obtained by calling (941) 452-4254.

Army Pfc. Yoland Jackson has graduated from the motor transport operator course at Fort Leonard Wood, Waynesville, Mo.

During the course, students received training in the operation and maintenance of light and heavy military vehicles. Instructions were given in transportation of personnel, equipment, and supplies.

Jackson is the daughter of Annie R. and Amos C. Coore of Pahokee.

She is a 1996 graduate of Pahokee Middle-Senior High School.

Army Pfc. Lee F. Thompson has been decorated with the Army Achievement Medal.

The medal is awarded to soldiers for meritorious service, acts of courage, or other outstanding accomplishments.

The private is an indirect-fire infantryman with the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg, Fayetteville, N.C. Thompson is the son of Doris G. Thompson of Pahokee.

He is a 1995 graduate of Pahokee Middle-Senior High School.

The new pastor at Everglades Presbyterian Church...Tanny Waldron

Tanny Waldron began pastoral duties at Everglades Presbyterian Church on March 1, 1997.

Ms. Waldron is a native of Pittsburgh, PA but has lived in South Florida most of her life. She married and was blessed with four children, then began a nursing career. Tanny continued her education while working full time and caring for the family.

She holds an A.S. degree in Nursing from Miami-Dade Community College; B.S.W. from Florida International University, N. Miami; and a Master's degree in Health Education from Nova University, Ft. Lauderdale.

In 1992, Ms. Waldron left a career as Nurse-Health Educator to answer a call to ordained ministry. She graduated from Columbia Theological Seminary in Atlanta, GA in 1995. Tanny became a widow in 1992. She shares her home with a little dog named "Bebita" and a cat named "Tiger." Two daughters and their families live in Pembroke Pines, FL. One son lives with his family near Jacksonville, FL and the other son and family live in Poughkeepsie, NY. There are a total of 10 grandchildren and the more often they can visit, the better, Tanny says.

Ms. Waldron has been warmly welcomed by the congregation at Everglades Presbyterian Church and also by members of the Belle Glade Ministerial Association. Tanny believes that it's God's call that has brought her to her new church and she looks forward to serving the lord together with the Everglades congregation.

Mr. & Mrs. Charles Hollingsworth

Miss Michelle Wilkinson & Mr. Charles Hollingsworth exchange vows

Miss Michelle Ann Wilkinson of Pahokee and Charles Thomas Hollingsworth of Belle Glade were joined together in marriage on Saturday, January 18, 1997 at 5:30 p.m. in a double ring candlelight service at the Community United Methodist Church of Belle Glade. The Reverend Rod Ruby of Lake Harbor performed the service.

The bride is the daughter of Julia Wilkinson of Pahokee and the late Walter E. Wilkinson. She is a 1990 graduate of Glades Day School in Belle Glade. She attended Palm Beach Community College and graduated from Nova Southeastern University of Ft. Lauderdale where she received a B.S. degree in Elementary Education. She is in her second year at Pioneer Park Elementary School where she teaches first grade.

The groom is the son of Harley and Robin Hollingsworth of Belle Glade. He is also a 1990 graduate of Glades Day School and has recently graduated from Palm Beach Community College. He is currently employed by R.R. Taylor Farms.

The church decorations were arranged by the Rose Petal of Belle Glade, featuring beautiful ivory Calla Lilies and greenery. The altar was adorned by a beautiful Calla Lily arrangement and candles were on both sides.

The music for the ceremony was performed by Nicole Witt, who sang "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer." She also played the violin for the pre and post wedding music. The organist was Teryl Collier who played "The Wedding March."

The bride was escorted by her brother, Brad Wilkinson. The two lighted a memorial candle in memory of their late father, Walter E. Wilkinson. The bride wore an ivory satin gown adorned with a row of ivory pearls along the waistline, accented by a pearl enshrined headpiece with a shoulder length veil trimmed in pearls. She wore ivory satin gloves and held an elegant bouquet of Calla Lilies and greens.

The maid of honor was Miss Kathryn Simonson of Pahokee and the bridesmaids were Miss Ann Carter, Mrs. Pam Batchelor, and Mrs. Diakie Jessell. They all wore full length ivory gowns. The gowns had sheer ivory sleeves and a sheer back. The maid of honor carried a bouquet of three Calla Lilies and the bridesmaids carried a single Calla Lily.

The best man was Mr. Timothy Stein of Wellington and the groomsmen were Mr. Jon Browder, Mr. Gayman Rackstraw, and Mr. Brad Wilkinson. They all wore black tuxedos with ivory shirts and black ties. The groom wore a black tuxedo with an ivory shirt, vest, and tie.

Standing at the guest book was the bride's cousin, Miss Kristin Hatton. She also handed out programs to arriving guests. Ushers included Mr. Thomas Norman, Mr. Clayton Norman, Mr. Luke Weeks, and Mr. Christopher Dean.

Mrs. Robin Hollingsworth, mother of the groom, wore a full length black chiffon gown accented with black sequins and carried a single ivory Calla Lily.

Mrs. Robin Hollingsworth, mother of the groom, wore a full length black silk georgette gown with jet beadwork and also carried a single ivory Calla Lily.

The reception immediately followed the ceremony in Lake Worth at Wycliffe Golf & Country Club. The Country Club was beautifully decorated with candle centerpieces at each table arranged by Mrs. Molly Norman. While awaiting the arrival of the wedding party, the guests viewed the bridal portrait by Moya Photography and shared a few words on video by Anthony's Video Productions. The guests also enjoyed a lavish cruise of fruits and cheeses.

The guests danced the night away to music by Florida Mobile Music of Fort Myers. The bride and her brother danced a special dance to the song "If I Had Only One Friend Left" by Dan Seals. The buffet was beautifully arranged with assorted salads and fruits, followed by a delicious array of carved roast beef and baked dolphin with a variety of vegetables and pastas. The wedding cake, designed by P&P Cakes of Clewiston, was elegantly displayed on a round table with photographs of the bride's parents and the groom's parents cutting their wedding cakes. The cake was four beautifully stacked tiers of smooth ivory frosting and the edges were graced with sugar Calla Lilies.

After several hours of fun, the bride and groom bid their farewells to their guests in a friendship circle. The bride, going away outfit was an ivory two-piece suit and the groom wore tan pants and a long-sleeved striped shirt. The two made their way through millions of tiny bubbles to their awaiting limousine. The couple spent a week-long honeymoon in North Carolina.

The couple will reside in Wellington, Florida.

Local P.B.C.C. student named to All-Florida Academic Team

Five Palm Beach Community College students have been named to the 1997 All-Florida Academic Team by the State Board of Community Colleges. The honorees were recognized for outstanding academic achievement, leadership abilities and community service.

Out of five students named to the team, one was from the Glades Campus. Ramona Ramos, will participate on the third team.

The students were nominated for the All-USA Academic Team sponsored by USA Today, Phi Theta Kappa International Honor Society and the American Association of Community Colleges (AACC).

and because of their standing in the national competition, they have earned appointment to the All-Florida Team.

This year, 89 Florida community college students were selected to represent the state on a first, second, or third academic team. A reception honoring the students will be held April 10 in Tallahassee.

Area residents Take Pride in Lake Okeechobee

The Take Pride in Lake Okeechobee Committee hosted the 11th Annual Take Pride in Lake Okeechobee event on Saturday, March 8 from 8 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. Over 800 participants from the surrounding communities dedicated their time and effort toward promoting responsible stewardship of our natural resources around Lake Okeechobee.

This event was held at the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers' South Florida Operations Office in Clewiston, with numerous environmental activities taking place at 13 locations around the lake.

In Clewiston, over 500 participants picked up litter, constructed bird houses and feeders; and replanted a tree nursery containing native tree species. Park Rangers Jason O'Kane, Stacy Lanni, Vic Sabo, and Chad Knickson led the activities. Big Lake Airboat Club launched from local boat ramps and cleaned up tree islands and shorelines in Hendry and Glades County. In Moore Haven, Park Ranger Yvonne Haber led volunteers to test plots on the Herbert Hoover Dike to plant native tree species where Melaleuca and Brazilian Pepper have recently been removed. In addition, the Okeechobee Waterway Association met with a group of boaters at the Alvin Ward Sr. boat ramp and picked up litter in several areas on the lake. At Lakeport, Fishbeating Creek, Sportman's Village, and Harney Pond Canal, Melissa Flower from Glades County Sanitation led several volunteers as they picked up litter. At Indian Prairie Canal, volunteer campground hosts Ken and Fran Morris led campers and members of the IPC Duck Hunters Association as they planted trees and picked up litter. In Pahoee, the Chamber of Commerce directed the same type activities as those held in Clewiston for more than 150 participants. After the morning activities, participants enjoyed a free lunch which consisted of hamburgers, hot dogs, sandwiches from Subway, chips, and desserts. Afternoon entertainment included several environmental displays and boat tours on the lake. The Southwest Florida Wildlife Rehabilitation and Conservation Center displayed several species of wildlife including an Eastern Indigo Snake, a Red Shouldered Hawk, and a Barnyard Owl. Gatorland from Orlando displayed several poisonous snakes found in our area, along with two American Alligators that the volunteers were allowed to take pictures of and touch. The Seminole Indian Tribe displayed an artifact collection and held a craft demonstration. The Hendry County Sheriff's Department distributed information about the D.A.R.E. and S.A.D.D. programs and the South Florida Water Management District set up a display on aquatic plants. Freddie the Alligator also made an appearance.

The activities concluded with an awards ceremony. Overall Winner trophies were given to the Pluto Service Unit, Big Lake Airboat Club, and the Okeechobee Waterway Association. Additional youth group winners include Young Friends of the Everglades, Junior Girl Scout Troop #1096, Broward Troop #403, Eckard Youth Group, Florida Environmental Institute, Boy Scout #619, Den 2, and Cub Scout Den #1. The IPC Duck Hunters Association and Pahoee Chamber of Commerce received Civic Organization awards and Glades County Sanitation captured the Business Winner trophy.

With the help of 878 volunteers, 1,250 seedlings were replanted, 900 trees were planted. Three dump truck loads of litter were picked up, and 300 bird houses and feeders were constructed. This event was made possible by the Take Pride in Lake Okeechobee Committee, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, the South Florida Water Management District, and a number of lake area businesses who make donations in support of preserving our natural resources and encouraging environmental awareness. If you would like further information about the 11th Annual Take Pride in Lake Okeechobee Clean Up or would like to become involved with the Take Pride in Lake Okeechobee Committee, please contact Park Ranger Tambour Eller at the South Florida Operations Office at (941) 983-8101.

Bank robbery ends in three arrests

A pistol, a sawed-off shotgun and Clewiston National Bank's stolen money was recovered from the wreckage.

In their attempt to elude law enforcement officials in South Bay, the three men slammed into a police cruiser then continued on to Belle Glade where another South Bay cruiser rear-ended the silver Mitsubishi sending it flipping into the sugar cane field.

The chase, capture and arrest of the suspects required help from the Clewiston Police Department, Hendry County Sheriff Department, South Bay Police Department, Belle Glade Police Department, Palm Beach County Sheriff Department, Florida Department of Law Enforcement and the FBI.

The three men were charged with attempted murder of a law enforcement official, aggravated battery of a law enforcement official and fleeing and eluding a police officer by Palm Beach County Sheriff Department and South Bay Police Department and armed robbery of a bank by the Clewiston Police Department and the Hendry County Sheriff's Department.

The three men are currently being held in the county jail while awaiting trial.

Kathryn Rardin Collins...A Love Story

After marrying Mr. Collins, she moved to Pahoee.

"I had a very happy life with Minter and after he passed away, I had no family in the Glades. Then I started to realize that the Glades had become a part of me and that it was my family in a way," said Kathryn. She continued, "I've lived many happy years in the Glades and when the good Lord decides to take my home, I'll be here waiting."

Kathryn Rardin Collins is the oldest member of Canal

Point Baptist Church and has been a member since she moved to the Glades. She played the piano there for over 40 years and she taught Sunday School. She says she can even recall when there was no actual church and services were held under a tree.

Mrs. Collins is a charter member of the Garden Club and served as a "pink lady" at Everglades Regional Medical Center for many years.

When asked about why she chose to continue to live in the Glades, she replied,

"Because I love it here," and when asked why, she said, "The people of the Glades are the most friendly, loving people in the world. We weep together, we rejoice together, and people care about people here. I believe that love gets love and because I've found so much love from the people of the Glades, I, in turn, love the Glades."

Norman & Singletary up for reelection for Pahoee City Commission

New correctional facility, providing over 200 new year-round jobs, projected to bring millions of dollars into the local economy.

Over 10,000 feet of new and repaired sidewalks and streets to be completed this year.

Thousands of feet of new water and sewer lines with no increase in utility rates.

A new tax incentive program to bring new businesses to Pahoee.

An ongoing program with the state of Florida to ensure repairs to Bacom Point Road (S.R. 715) and East Main Street (S.R. 15). A new local concerned citizen community based cleanup program, including the purchase of a street sweeper.

Application for a state CDBG Grant of $750,000 for water plant improvements is underway.

Norman said, "I have enjoyed working with Commissioner Singletary. He makes getting along together for 'the good of the city' a major thing, and I believe that Roy and I, working with the Mayor and the other Commissioners can make a difference."

Singletary went on to say, "The City Commission works best when there is not a 'circus' atmosphere that some cities have."

Ideas For The Way You Live.

GARY GOGGANS is the new branch manager at Everglades Federal Credit Union in Belle Glade. Mr. Goggans, a Belle Glade native, invites Glades residents to stop by and check out all the services offered by the credit union.

Alumni Baseball game is Sunday

The Glades Day School Alumni Baseball Game is set for this Sunday, April 6 at the school.

Batting practice is available anytime after noon until game time.

For more information, contact Mike Underwood at 996-3825.

GDS to present "Hollywood Hotel"

Glades Day School's Class of 1997 will present "Hollywood Hotel" on Friday, April 11 and Saturday, April 12 at 7:30 p.m. There will be refreshments served following each performance. Tickets are $8 and can be purchased from cast members or by calling Janis Meeks at Glades Day School, 996-4140.

Recovery Group meets at Good Shepherd

A Christ-centered recovery group meets every Monday evening at the Good Shepherd Church of God in Pahokee. Meetings are at 7:30 p.m. and the public is welcome. The church is located at 1800 Bacon Point Road, Pahokee.

Children welcome

Lutheran Ministries of Florida, PEPP Head Start, is recruiting and accepting applications for three and four year old children. All are welcome, including children with disabilities and there are no fees. The center is located at 200 S.W. 9th Street, Belle Glade. For more information, call 996-1718.

It's Deja vu for Gary Goggans

Gary Goggans has come full circle. He's back in the same office at a job he enjoyed many years ago, but with a different bank.

Goggans, 44, is the new branch manager at Everglades Federal Credit Union. The building is the same one at 701 South Main Street, Belle Glade that used to be home to Duval Federal. Goggans was the branch manager at that bank from 1983 to 1991 when that bank closed.

"I really enjoyed working at Duval Federal. Our branch office was profitable. The closing was very sudden," said Goggans.

After the closing, Goggans took the position of business manager at Glades General Hospital. He most recently was the District Executive for the Boy Scouts of America.

"I plan to stay involved with scouting," said Goggans, who has a son active in Boy Scouts. Goggans was born and raised in Belle Glade. He and his wife, Irma have been married almost 18 years and have three children, Melissa, 14, Chris, 11, and Brian, 9.

Goggans is a graduate of Belle Glade High School and holds a Bachelor of Arts Degree from the University of Florida. He is the incoming president of the Belle Glade Rotary Club and a director on the board of the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce. He also serves as treasurer of the board for the Glades Community Development Corporation and is on the advisory board of West Technical Education Center. Goggans also stays busy as a commissioner and assistant coach for the Glades Youth Baseball.

Goggans says he feels right at home at Everglades Federal Credit Union.

"There are different types of credit unions, but what's nice here is that Everglades Federal Credit Union has a community charter. Anyone who lives or works in Palm Beach County, west of 20 Mile Bend, is eligible to join the credit union," he notes.

Goggans replaces Ray Fleitman, who was the manager at the local branch for less than a year. "I'm very happy to be back doing what I was so happy doing before," said Goggans. "The desk is nicer now, but it still feels like home."

CHAMBER MEMBER OF THE MONTH—First Community Bank of Palm Beach County was named Chamber Member of the Month by the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce for March. Chamber Second Vice President Lee Mikell presents the award to Bank Manager Jeanette Meredith.

Child's Income on Parent's Return

Some parents may choose to include a child's investment income on their return. That means the child does not have to file. But before choosing to do this, parents should figure their tax and the child's tax separately to see which way provides the lowest tax. For details, get Publication 929, Tax Rules for Children and Dependents, in English only.

Dependent May Have to File

Dependents must follow specific rules to figure whether they have to file a tax return. The amount and type of income and whether they are married, age 65 or older, or blind are all taken into account. For details, get Publication 929, Tax Rules for Children and Dependents, in English only.

Babies Need SSNs

To claim an exemption for any dependent born before December 1996, you must list the dependent's Social Security number (SSN) on your tax return. To get one, contact the nearest Social Security Administration office for Form SS-5, "Application for a Social Security Card." Always double-check each SSN on all tax forms and schedules. If the dependent is not eligible for an SSN, you must list an individual taxpayer identification number. Use Form W-7 to get one.

Final Income Tax Return Due

As strange as it may seem, tax obligations do not end at death. If people have enough income before dying to require tax returns, then their families or executors must file a final-income tax return to report that income and pay any taxes or claim any refund due.

And depending on when a person dies, more than one tax return may need to be filed. For a calendar year taxpayer who died between January 1 and April 15 without filing the previous year's return, two income tax returns are due. The first is due by April 15 of the year of death. The second and final return is due by April 15 of the following year to report any income and deduct any expenses the decedent (person who died) had between January 1 and the date of death.

All these things can be handled by a personal representative of the decedent's estate: an executor, an administrator, or anyone who is in charge of the decedent's property.

If taxes are owed, the representative must collect them from the estate and send a check with the tax return to the Internal Revenue Service. If a refund is due, the representative must attach to the return a copy of the court certificate showing his or her appointment as representative. This certificate authorizes the IRS to make the refund payment to the decedent's estate. A power of attorney or copy of the will is not acceptable. For those who are not court-appointed or certified personal representatives, a Form 1310, "Statement of Person Claiming Refund Due a Deceased Taxpayer," may be required.

Usually a surviving spouse can file a joint return for the decedent if he or she did not remarry in the year of death. Making a payment or claiming a refund is handled the same way as if the decedent were still living. The surviving spouse does not need to file Form 1310.

The surviving spouse or representative should immediately give notice of the death to all parties, including financial institutions, who paid income to the decedent. This will ensure the proper reporting of income earned by the estate or heirs.

A person's tax death can also affect the tax returns of the heirs and the estate. It may be wise to have the representative coordinate the filing of all tax returns to make sure they are done correctly.

For more information on the duties and responsibilities of the personal representative, get Publication 559, Survivors, Executors, and Administrators, by calling 1-800-829-3676.

Dependents Claimed Only Once

People who share custody or support of a dependent should make sure that only the person who is entitled to the exemption claims the dependent. No one may be claimed on more than one tax return. For example, divorced parents who have joint custody of their child must determine each year which parent qualifies to claim the dependent. Call 1-800-829-3676 for Publication 501, Exemptions, Standard Deduction, and Filing Information.
